Hollander's Regional Training Summit Series Continues in Detroit

Hollander will continue Summits with expanded content

MINNEAPOLIS – July 1, 2015 - Hollander, LLC., a business unit of Solera Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: SLH) and the leading provider of software and data solutions for the automotive recycling industry, will host its third Regional Training Summit at the Marriott Ypsilanti at Eagle Crest August 29th. The Summit will aim to increase yard efficiency and profitability with 10 educational sessions across three informative learning tracks – Inventory, System Management and Advanced Powerlink[®] Reporting.

Hollander recently hosted Northeast regional customers in Philadelphia at the Ace Conference Center June 27th, and added a session track on top of the original two presented at the first Summit in Atlanta to give more advanced users a broader diversity of sessions to attend.

“Two successful Summits have confirmed that training is exactly what our customers were looking for,” said Anders Moeller, managing director of Hollander. “Our attendees are eager to learn about our core products, so based on customer response we may add even more sessions concerning products such as eLink and others.”

Hollander's Regional Training Summit series is a fit for users of every skill level. Sessions help to sharpen expertise with Hollander products, particularly learning best practices for setting up and managing business operations, stores and employees in the Powerlink yard management system. Hollander also provides a Technology Test Drive Center (TTDC) for product and yard specific questions. The TTDC is staffed by Hollander service experts, the Hollander sales team and a representative from eBay Motors to answer any questions related to the world's largest parts-based marketplace.

The Detroit event will be the third event in six months, as the Training Summit series expands farther across America. The full day of sessions begins at 9 a.m., with classes being capped at 4 p.m., and the Summit ending after a post-session reception social hour with food and drinks provided.

“We understand taking classes all day means a lot of information to process, so we provide a more casual environment for customers to talk with our experts and other attendees afterward, to keep them engaged and learning as much as possible,” Moeller said. “We want to make sure they return home with new ideas to leverage their investment in Hollander products even more.”
